A Year of Promise

Rising to the Occasion

Decatur Central has shown its desire to Rise Above the Rest for the 1987-1988 school year. Homecoming '87 was an overall success with seniors Brian Harrington and Amy Asher reigning over the evening, as King and Queen. The spirit for this school year has been running rampant. The 1500 students, teachers, and administrators have pulled together to keep Decatur's standards rising. Teacher, Mrs. Donna Duhamel said "This is a year of promise, good things are here — but there are many more on the horizon."

The Senior class has organized many successful activities. Decatur's Class of '88 has been valiantly trying to say goodbye in the best way possible. Senior Sandhi Ahern said, "The class is really unified this year — not just a group of seniors, but a class united."

Despite the various problems Decatur has risen above other schools this year, if not in actual scores then in the desire to do well. Be it in football games, soccer games, musicals, speech meets, swim meets, choir contests, whatever, Decatur standards have risen, and will continue to do so.

Thanks to the "new attitude" of Decatur students, club enrollment has increased, extracurricular activities were attended, and crowd participation has been phenomenal.

Senior Bill Thompson, new at Decatur said, "I was surprised when I first came here at how well the people knew each other. But not too well, everyone was very friendly and readily accepted me. I'm glad I came to Decatur." Hopefully this shows Decatur's willingness to accept new things — and improve upon them.

Throughout the 1987-1988 school year, students and faculty have displayed again and again their desire to keep Rising Above the Rest.

The Senior tree stands high above the rest. It is a tradition at D.C. for the senior class to paint the tree.

Mony DC fons show their spirit at the homecoming pep session. The home-coming pep session was the first of the 87-88 school year.

Students in a first-year typing class take a timed writing. The timed writings made up a major part of the students typing grade.

Seniors Terry Obermeyer and Brady Marshall grab their books and get ready to go home. This year the day was shortened by five minutes.

Senior Delynn Harper, Junior Kristie Kinman, Seniors Ami Rink and Charlotte Hill take a break before the class competition begins. This was the first year for DC to hold class games as part of Spirit Week.

Standing in line to ride the Vortex, senior Laura Redman waits with anticipation. Several seniors stated that the Vortex was the best ride at Kings Island.

Getting ready to ride the Beast, Seniors Larry Kelley and Brian Harshman wait in line at Kings Island. The senior Kings Island trip was on September 13.

Ring Ring. . . Goes the Bell

Talking in the halls, grabbing books out of the locker, and heading for that favorite class — all these things created the typical day. Students learned more than just required courses. Social relationships also were a part of students' lives at DC. One student stated, "I like the five-minute passing period because I am able to find out all the latest news from my friends." Students also enjoyed participating in after-school activities. "I like running cross country because it is like a family sport. Everyone knows each other and they depend on each other for support and to win," commented junior Letta Neely. All these things show how DC students . . .

Rise Above The Rest!

Road to Success Paved by Graduation

On June fourth, the class of 1987 faced one last success in a list of many: graduation. A beautiful sunset set the scene as 290 seniors walked onto the football field to "Pomp and Circumstance." Anticipation of the future filled the minds of some seniors. Sadness of leaving a place that had become a part of seniors' lives filled the hearts of many.

Many of the items on the program were performed by members of the graduating class. Michelle Couch gave the invocation. Stephanie Randall presented the welcome, Cheryl Casselman led the changing of the tassels, and Todd Walker gave the benediction. Valedictorian and salutatorian speeches, given by Paula Raines and Cheryl Regan respectively, were also a part of the ceremony.

Tears and cheers came from the friends and families of the graduates as diplomas were presented. Once the diplomas had been received and the tassels changed, there remained one thing left to do: toss the caps into the air. This became a new tradition and the evening became a memory to the class of 1987.

Led by Cheryl Casselman, seniors take part in the traditional turning of the tassels.

The lost minutes before the procession to the football field were filled with little details as shown here by Dorella McAllister and Danielle Solodine.

Hats off to the class of 1987 as they spend their last moments on the DC field.

These flowers are a centerpiece on the stage where seniors were presented their diplomas.

Seniors line up for the procession, the last time they would be together before graduation.

Bris Lights & Promises

The Junior-Senior Prom, "Bright Lights and Promises," was on May 16, 1987, at the Atkinson Hotel. The prom this year had many added features. Candid pictures of the students were being taken during the prom. A video disc jockey provided entertainment for the dance. While the band was not performing, records along with videos were being played. Students could watch themselves on the screen dancing to the music. Ms. Lewis said, "I think the things that made the 1987 prom most unique were the two forms of entertainment, the video and the live band."

Afterwards, Prom-goers changed from their dresses and tuxedos and headed to the "S.S. Decatur." Junior Denise Stropes commented, "The decorations were very nice." The post prom centered around a "cruise" theme. Much work went into putting the prom together. Many DC students said May 16 was an evening never to be forgotten. Junior Rob LeBeau said, "I had a nice time and I'm looking forward to next year's prom."

Seniors Michelle Couch and Cheryl Casselman dance to the beat. Live entertainment was provided.

A special aura surrounds Junior Amy Wolfer and Freshman Chad Jester. As they dance to the theme song, "Take My Breath Away."

Seniors Stephanie Randall and Jim Waites finish their reign as Prom King and Queen by dancing the traditional promenade.

Juniors Michelle Parrinello and Brian Harshman pose after being named Prince and Princess.

Seniors Stephanie Gray and Michelle Lemmons drink punch and socialize. Refreshments were served at the prom.

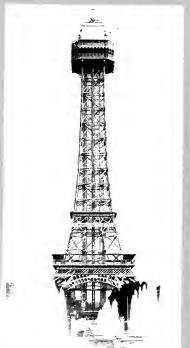

The Next Day . . . Final Hours of a Fantasy Weekend

At the stroke of 1:00 a.m., the ball was over. Prom '87 had come and gone. Everyone had the same question, "What do we do now?" Several people chose to attend the post prom, "Cruise the Night Away", some traveled to spend the next day in other places, and a few did both. Among the most popular places to go were Brown County and Kings Island.

"Bobby and I stayed up all night and went to Brown County. We saw a lot of people from Decatur."

Kristie Krodel

"After prom, a bunch of us went to Kings Island. Stephanie (Bain) wouldn't ride White Water Canyon. So later in the parking lot during lunch, we all drenched her with two coolers full of ice water!"

Steve McBride

While some DC students went to the popular spots, others went to quiet, out-of-the-way places.

"We went to Lake Monroe and had planned on swimming all day, but it was too cold so we went speed boating instead."

Jill Lay

Some students couldn't go away for the day for various reasons and others didn't want to or couldn't manage to get themselves out of bed.

"We couldn't go to Kings Island and there wasn't anything to do because it was Sunday, so we stayed home and watched movies together."

Amy Asher

"I checked out how much money I had left (None!) and recovered!"

Rob LeBeau

"Stacie and I stayed at the post promuntil 4:30. We were so exhausted the next day that all we did was sleep!"

Terry Obermeyer

All spent the day after prom in their own special way to put the finishing touches on a weekend full of memories.

The Eiffel Tower is the center of attention at Kings Island. Groups often meet here throughout the day.

Brown County is a very popular place to go after the prom. Decatur students enjoyed each other's company in quiet settings such as this.

Summer Flicks

Another summer has passed and one memory still remains with student: eating hot, buttered popcorn while watching those summer movies.

Several films were released this summer including Beverly Hills Cop II, (which was ranked a favorite among a sampling of students), Robocop, Summer School, and Dragnet.

For the young at heart, Walt Disney rereleased Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs.

Also, the animated movie Masters of the Universe was released.

While Junior Chris Tetrick liked Dragnet because "it gave 'just the facts,' "Sophomore Kiana Fossett liked Beverly Hills Cop II because of Eddie Murphy, who she considers "exciting and fun to watch."

Movies are considered entertaining by many and this summer's movies offered some of the best entertainment around.

Live concerts were enjoyed by many music fans. Attendance at all concerts rose dramatically.

Love, Greed, Power, Hate

"Krista, you can't leave me! You owe me your life. I raised you from a little tramp on the streets to become a star." This might be a typical line from a soap opera. A random survey of students showed that The Young and The Restless was the most popular soap.

This soap was a favorite with Junior Angie Crickmore because "It's exciting and you are always wondering what is going to happen next."

Many people are diehard soap opera fans such as Junior Karen Weaver who has been watching Days of Our Lives for four years. Her reason for watching it: "Because Bo Brady is good looking."

The actor's or actress' appearance also had a lot to do with the reasons people would choose to be in some soap operas.

Sophomore Nicole Hodges said, "If I could be in any soap, I would want to be in As the World Turns so I could be with Dusty."

Students also admired the actor or actress for talent. "Mindy Lewis is my favorite character because she is Rusty Shane's girlfriend and she is talented and pretty," stated Junior Crystal Keenan. Many boys also tune into the soaps. "I like the girls and the suspense on Days of Our Lives," stated Junior Steve Wheeler.

Boys also watch the soaps for the action. Junior Sean Ridge watches The Young and the Restless because "I like the deception and watching Victor throw people around."

Soap operas are a popular form of entertainment for D.C. students. They provide the excitement that the news can't. So remember the next time you're bored to tune in to the soaps.

Gimme a Beat

High school students are known to be great music fans. They listen to a vast variety of music and musicians. Be it country or rock, music plays an important part in a teenager's life. Hank Williams, Jr. seems to be a favorite of the country listeners. For rock, there are a few different categories, such as soft rock Whitney Houston, heavy metal - Bon Jovi, soul - L. L. Cool J., and for Pop rock -Marx, U2, and Prince.

Country and rock stars go quickly in and out of style — However, there are a few that are timeless. The music of today has changed drastically from the beginning of the 1900's, and the teenagers of this generation will have a lot to do with the changes in the future.

Friendship or "True Friendship"

Friendship is the best of everything! Take a look at what exists within a true friendship — that is if it can be considered a true friendship.

A true friendship consists of many different abilities — the abilities to show emotions toward one another, give advice when needed or asked for, to listen, and the ability to understand or at least try to. But probably the most important aspect within a friendship is trust. Without the ability to trust one another, the hope of a true friendship cannot even be considered. The idea of a true friendship is to share yourself with another person — you yourself must be willing to be just that, "a true friend" in order to have one.

These true friends party at a going away celebration.

If one is interested in name brands, does "Reeboks" sound amiliar? "Reeboks" are a more popular highly-priced thoe on the market for men and women. "I like 'Reeboks' because they are comfortable and stylish," said one DC student. Women tend to select the high-top version of 'Reeboks." During the winter, comfortable casual wear such as tennis shoes or boots are worn.

Flats are a popular choice during the warmer weather. Also, bright colored shoes are worn at this time.

In choosing a pair of shoes, one should consider comfort, the fit, and their purpose. Often style and color are set higher on the list of priorities. So don't let fads interfere with a step in the right direction.

Converse shoes are very popular in all various colors, even with bleach spots.

Dating is an enjoyable pastime for many teenagers. Teenagers date mainly to have a good time and to get to know someone better.

Some popular places for these dates are downtown Indianapolis, Greenwood, Union Station, Claypool Court, Oliver's, and The Olive Garden. "Dating is going out with that someone special and having a good time," said Junior Wayne Hawkins.

Some activities that students participate in during these dates include playing putt-putt, seeing a movie, or just "cruising." "Dating to me means taking a young lady out and showing her a good time," said Junior Jessie Spears.

Dates can be paid for by either boy or girl. Sometimes, students go "dutch" — each person pays his/her own way. No matter who pays for the date or where the students go, dates will remain in the high school tradition.

What the Stars Have in Store for You

Many believe Astrology to be an infallible science (similar to astronomy). Others tend to believe that it's pure nonsense. Astrology deals with the stars, planets, and planet movement.

Many students at Decatur believe in horoscopes, or read them anyway. One student said, "I read my horoscope in the paper every day. It's just kind of fun to think you can know what's going to happen before it does. I don't think I really believe in them.

A junior student was asked about where horoscopes originated and why they are still popular. His response: "I really have no idea. And who really cares? They're just interesting."

It is said that the "heavens" are a large circle, which is divided into 12 equal parts. These divisions represent the signs of the Zodiac: Aries the Ram, Taurus the Bull, Gemini the Twins, Cancer the Crab. Leo the Lion, Virgo the Virgin, Libra the Scales, Scorpio the Scorpion, Sagittarius the Archer, Capricorn the Goat, Aquarius the Water Bearer, and Pisces the Fish.

Individual birth dates determine what sign a person falls under. For example, it is believed by many that if one is born between March 22 and April 20 he/she belongs under the sign of Aries. Aries people are said to be pioneers, idealists, and the leaders of the world. They are inclined to start new things before finishing the old. These people are not at all consistent. However, Arieses are highspirited, generous, and tactful. If born between the dates of April 21 and May 21, a_person is a Taurus.

Tauruses are in need of creature comforts. They enjoy home life and children. In business they are forceful, yet in love they are undemonstrative. They usually remain calm and self-controlled.

Those born between May 22 and June 21 belong under the Gemini sign.

Geminis are often flirts — along with being versatile, flexible, and changeable. These people are said to have turbulent minds, but they do remain charming and stimulating. Social success for the Gemini is assured; however, in business they must work.

The fourth sign of the Zodiac is Cancer birthdates being June 22 to July 23. This is the domestic sign. These people are sensitive and easily hurt. They are very apt to worry, be nervous and fretful, craving change and adventure. In love, the Cancerians are loyal, very loyal.

These people love adulation, and if they don't get it, they imagine it. They have many minor weaknesses and yet they still show strength. Leos are willing to give the utmost for those they love. They never stoop to anything petty or mean.

Virgo, the sixth sign of the Zodiac, is an intellectual sign. Born between Au-

Those under the eleventh sign of the Zodiac are people that give themselves to the world. They tend to be more interested in others than they are in themselves. Aquarius people are very loyal and will make dependable husbands and wives.

Superstition: Fact or Fiction?

Is there an answer? How many read the horoscopes every day? And, how many take them seriously? How many worry about black cats? Ladders? The number 13? Yes, everyone seems to have some type of superstition, and some even swear by their beliefs.

Never wish an actor or actress good luck! Tell him/her, believe it or not to "break a leg!" In Webster's superstition is defined as a belief or practice resulting from ignorance, fear of the unknown, trust in magic or chance, a false concept of causation, a notion maintained despite evidence to the contrary.

Senior Heather White stated, "Say what you like, but my good luck charm always works for me!" Melodie Prilliman, senior, said that, no she doesn't necessarily believe in, well horoscopes, for example; "but sometimes they do seem to fit the situation. How do you explain that?"

Superstition is something yet to be explained
— until that time comes look for those four leaf clovers, watch out for black cats and ladders, and, of course — FRIDAY THE 13TH!

Tanning Fixes Winter Whites

Tanning salons are beoming even more popular nese days. Many students o to tanning salons to chieve a dark tan. "It is eat having a dark tan all ear round," stated one tudent. Nowadays there re two different types of anning salons, a tanning ooth and a tanning bed.

The newest item on the narket is the tanning ooth. In the tanning booth, you stand in a small hexagon shaped booth with bulbs all around you. In the booth the maximum time allowed is 15 minutes.

The old but still popular idea is the tanning bed, a bed with bulbs above and below. The maximum time allowed is 30 minutes. Senior Tracy Ballard said, "I like being in a tanning bed for only 30 minutes instead of sitting outside in the sun all day. I think I tan a lot faster in a tanning bed."

Tanning salon prices range anywhere from $3.00 to $6.50 a single session. The more sessions bought the cheaper it is. The salons still, however, have many questions to them. Even though there are many questions to tanning beds and booths, many DC students would not know what to do without them.

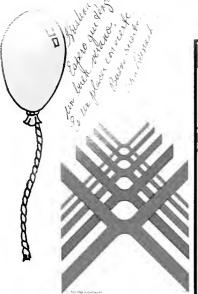

New Eyes

Every year more students change from glasses to contact lenses for one reason or another. Many however, change for appearance reasons to make themselves not only look better to others around them but to themselves.

There are several different types of contact lenses: soft, hard and gas permeable. But now growing more popular are the extended wear lenses. With the extended wear lenses the individual is allowed to wear them for up to 30 days without taking them out. However extended wear lenses are not for all lens wearers; they can cause problems for the eyes. They are not recommended for very sensitive eyes because of chances of build-up on the lenses that can cause an eye infection.

Becoming even more popular are tinted contact lenses. Many students chose to wear tinted lenses for various reasons. Senior Vicki Horrell stated, "I've worn contact lenses for over six years. I just recently purchased brown tinted lenses and I have found they are easier to find when lost. I think they have changed my eye color considerably. I plan to buy them again when I need to." Students change color to give variety to their eyes. Some feel this enhances their appearance and gives an even better look.

Contact lenses these days are becoming more popular for several reasons. Many DC students would rather wear contact lenses than glasses.

Bienvenidos Amigos

The Pan Am Games were held in Indianapolis from August 7 to August 23. The games played a big part of people's lives in Indianapolis, including D.C.H.S. students.

Many students went to the opening ceremonies, which were held at the Speedway and included all of the athletes from different countries. A huge castle designed by Walt Disney was a part of the entertainment from the opening ceremonies.

After the ceremonies there were various sports activities, sports ranging from basketball and baseball to archery and judo.

Decatur Fest '87

New Traditions Begin

Buttons, princesses and a donkey were all a part of the Hawks new tradition. The homecoming festivities began with Tuesday being Nerd Day, Wednesday being Button Day, Thursday being Fire-up Day, and Friday, continuing the old traditions, Blue and Gold Day. Also, Friday the highly-awaited selections of prince and princess for each class were announced. For the Freshman Class Eric Fisher and Colleen Taylor were elected. For the Sophomore Class Paul Thompson and Francie Taylor were elected, and reigning over the Junior Class were Tom Waites and Shawn O'Connor.

Later that night at halftime, the Senior Class king and queen were announced. Crowned king was Brian Harrington and queen, Amy Asher. Along with the crowning of king and queen came another new Decatur tradition — the kiss the donkey contest. Mr. Walpole was the lucky teacher who got the privilege of kissing the donkey.

As the night grew old, the Hawks grew stronger. Even with the loss to the Wildcats, 16 to 7, the Hawks fought all the way to the end.

After all the excitement of the Homecoming game, the first Decatur Fest Homecoming Dance took place. The dance was sponsored by Student Council, who supplied the disc jockey and arranged a hayride for all the guests at the dance.

All of these new traditions, along with the old, brought joy and pleasure to all Decatur students.

This years Senior class elected Brian Harrington and Amy Asher as their Homecoming King and Queen.

Mr. Wapole started the tradition of kissing the donkey at Homecoming this year. He was the recipient of the contest to help raise money.

The '87 Homecoming court included Juniors, Shawn O'Conner and Tom Waites, Sophomores Francie Taylor and Paul Thompson, Freshmen Colleen Taylor and Eric Fisher.

Senior Amy Asher showed great school pride by decorating her truck for the Homecoming parade which took place at half-time.

Wishes do change over a period of time. Mr. Elson Benedict replied, "All I want now is peace and quiet. I want my bills taken care of and my kids to be healthy."

There were many supertitions about wishes. These were such things as the belief that wishing on a falling star will make a wish come true and the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. Many people believed in them. Some did not. "I don't believe wishing on a falling star or any other sayings are true. I think a person's dreams come true when the person has the ability and willpower to work hard to achieve the things most valuable in life to the individual." stated

The 1988 Jazz Connection experimented with different types of music this year. Not only did they play jazz, but also rock, ragtime, and classical jazz. Director David Marcotte said, "I don't want to limit ourselves to one kind of music."

In the spring, Jazz Connection '88 traveled to Nashville, Tennessee, to compete with bands around the country. Other performances and competitions included Union Station, Depauw University, and many community groups.

Goldies Are Too Hot

This year DC Swing Choir, the Goldenaires, started off with a very young and inexperienced group but overcame hese obstacles and grew to a 33 member group.

After four long years the Goldenaires were accepted to participate in Bishop Leurs ontest. Director Susan Denney commented, 'This group has an excellent attitude. They want to succeed and do all they can to accomplish that.''

Hard work and dedication were the key words to meeting goals this year. Some of

The Goldenaires also participated in a learning workshop at Zionsville.

Junior Chris Fitzpatrick said, "Although we started out with a real young group, we've finally pulled together. I think that achievement was just as important as any contest."

DC's show choir was always working to show that hard work and dedication will always help students rise above the rest.

Hillbillies Take DC's Stage by Storm

The Dogpatch Dilemma . . .

This year saw change in the way things were done in the Drama department. One of the changes involved the moving of the year's spring musical to the fall to allow the directors more time in working with a much larger cast. The year's production of Li'l Abner was based on the lives and adventures of the comic book hillbillies from the backwoods town of Dogpatch.

In the musical, the beauty of the town, Daisy Mae, was after the boy she had always hoped to marry, Li'l Abner. She was working to do just that on Saddie Hawkins Day, when the girls chased the boys they liked in a race, and if they caught them, they got to marry them! However, the government had just declared Dogpatch "unnecessary" and had demanded that everyone leave so the town could be used for a nuclear bomb testing site. All plans were halted, though, when it was discovered that the strengthening tonic which Li'l Abner took every day could turn any man into a muscle man. Total chaos happened throughout the

The musical made a big hit with everyone. Opening night for Li'l Abner was a sellout. On its second performance, it missed a sellout crowd by thirty seats.

Another change that came about was the first-time co-directing of a production between Drama Director, Kathleen Hollibaugh, and Choral Director, Susan Denney, with Senior Vicki Horrell as the Student Director.

The cast and crews put in many long hours of work, but in the end it was all worth it. "I feel Li'l Abner went very well; we had a sellout and made a lot of money for the Drama Department. Li'l Abner was a big musical and everyone worked together as a unit. No single person made it work, it took everyone to bring it together," commented the Drama Director, Kathleen Hollibaugh. It all just went to show why Decatur was still rising above the rest.

Students in sophomore English learn gerunds, infinitives, and participles. English was required for all four years of high school.

Senior Sherri Cochran uses the card catalog in the library. The card catalog helped many students locate books.

Senior Missy Burner uses a typewriter in the library to do a report. Typewriters were offered to students during their study holls to type assianments.

Senior Bill Thompson studies trigonometry intensely. Trigonometry is offered to those who had completed Algebra 3-4.

Students in Biology 1-2 review for a test. Biology is a requirement for graduotion.

Homework When Will It End

The room was brightly lit. Your hands were sweating. This was one of the most important tests of the year and you had not even looked at the review material. No turning back — it is now or never. Does this sound familiar? Several students were found in this scene here at DC.

Academics played a major role in students' futures. For example, a student might take journalism because he wanted to become a reporter. Some classes required a great deal of study time. "Calculus is a totally different experience and it requires a lot of studying. It is not like Algebra. You need to remember many theorems," commented Senior Dawn Reuter.

No matter what the class may be, homework will always be a necessity. But it will help DC students . . .

Rise Above The Rest!

When the Dawn Breaks Projects Are on the Rise

Students were working hard on projects in the Junior college prep Literature classes. Over the course of the year, six projects were assigned. These projects dealt with outside reading. The students were supplied with a sheet of projects, which were given to them at the beginning of the school year. These sheets told of projects over several books, novels, short stories, and poems. The projects were described on the sheets and to the class on the day they was assigned. The titles of books ranged from Moby Dick to The Deerslayer, with authors such as Edgar Allan Poe and Washington Irving. "I had previously read most of the books that we had to read, so they are not unpopular books," stated Junior Shanda Huaains.

After the project was explained to the student, he or she decided on a book to read. Some books were obtained from the teacher or from other sources.

After the student finished reading the book, a project was worked on. The projects were sometimes listed on the sheet or students could choose their own with teacher approval. Some projects that were made included Puritan diaries, book reviews, posters, crossword puzzles, book jackets, games, and essays.

The projects were a lot of work but sometimes could even be fun.

Teacher Cindy Martin gives a spelling test duri one of her classes. Spelling tests were a maj part of English class. Tests and quizzes we given weekly.

eacher Dorothy Dillon reads along with her class. eading was done almost every week with tests or uizzes given at various times.

Sophomore Melissa Wilder glances at her paper with a pen in her hand. Most English class teachers preferred that their students use pens when writing.

Freshman Corrie Phelps studies her paper to answer the next question. Tests and quizzes were given several times during the course of the year.

Sophomores Sherry Tolle and Felicia Jones work on a science experiment. Biology was required for many sophomores for graduation.

Field Biology New Kid on the Block

"Field Biology is an interesting class and it should be taken if a student is thinking of entering a science related job," commented Junior Sean Jones. Field Biology was a new science class this year. The course was open to everyone who had completed Biology 1&2. "I feel it teaches more than regular Biology and it is a very interesting class to take," commented Senior Amy Cranfield. Mrs. McNew hoped that her students learned how everything is related in the natural sciences. Some of the labs the students did were a complete ecological study which lasted for two weeks and a study of owl pellets. "The class is fun and I like the labs," said senior Donno Wheeler. "My two Field Biology classes were the neatest group of students I worked with this year," commented Mrs. McNew of her Field Biology classes.

Calculus A Weighted Decision

"Calculus is a difficult course but it prepares a person for college demands," commented Senior David Nelson. This class required a lot of work and was harder than others. "I am taking it in high school so I understand it in college," said Senior Rob LeBeau. College Algebra and Trigonometry were prerequisites for enrolling in Calculus. A student in calculus could receive both high school and college credit. "During the first nine weeks, two thirds of my students received either an A or B," commented Mr. McKowen.

Senior Shown Carnes works hard to finish his calculus homework. Calculus required much study time beyond the classroom.

Mr. Walpole's fifth period trigonometry class studies diligently. Trigonometry must be taken if a student planned to take Calculus.

Mr. Walpole helps Senior Jason Turk with his trigonometry work. Mr. Walpole also taught Introductory Algebra.

A New Course for 87 Advanced Placement U.S. History

When a student became a junior, it was required of him or her to take a United States History class. There were a few different types of history classes to choose from. A new type of history that was offered this year was Advanced Placement.

Advanced Placement U.S. History was designed for a person with higher academic levels. The course was much more difficult because it was a higher placed course. A larger area of material was covered in the class and tests were given more often. Junior Aaron Coates stated, "I think it is more interesting than a usual U.S. History class." At the end of the school year, students were given the opportunity to take a test which cost forty dollars to earn college credits in history. If the test score was above a certain level, the student then received the credit: If the student could not afford the high price the faculty then could consider paying for the student's taking of the test. Only a fer selected students were able to get the financial help. These students were chose because of their high academic achievement in the class and because the administration felt they would do well on the test.

Mr. Taylor checks attendance in an Economics class. Management of money was taught to students in the class.

Students take notes in Geography class. Extensive notes were important in the class for tests and quizzes.

Senior David Nauert works on a homework assignment in Mr. Taylor's Economics class. Economics was required for seniors to graduate.

Mr. Webster discusses with his class. Many subjects were covered in these class discussions.

Students listen to one of Mr. Webster's lectures. Lectures were given daily on various subjects.

A Rainbow of New Colors

Painting Your Way to the Top

The Arts Department offered a variety of areas to pursue, from painting to ceramics. In the painting and drawing field, there were Basic Art, Advanced Drawing, Watercolor, and Advanced Paint and Oils. Basic Art was required in order to take any other art classes. This class covered many types of art. Sophomore Tim Hilderbrand stated, "In Basic Art, my favorite section was composition and design — and the teacher's sense of humor."

After Basic Art, a student could go on to Advanced Art and Drawing or Watercolor. Advanced Art and Drawing covered aspects of art similar to those introduced in the basic class. In Watercolor, students painted many items, including abstract ideas, portraits and landscapes. Senior Paula Brown stated, "This was my favorite art class I've taken, and the teachers seem to know a lot about what they're teaching and teach it so it can be very interesting." After Watercolor, a student could go into Advanced Paint and Oils, which discussed painting with different types of paint, including watercolors and oil paints.

Another type of course offered in the Arts Department was Ceramics and Sculpture. After taking Sculpture a student can take Advanced Ceramics, where students made clay pottery and other works of art with ceramic materials.

Art History was also another class offered in the Fine Arts Department. This class was designed to teach students about art of the past and how it has developed into the art of the present day Some students found this course fascinating.

If students wished to continue art pas the regular school hours, there was the Art Club. The club this year was comprised of five members who joined fo their love of art. Mrs. Rhonda Davis Kelsay stated, "I was pleased with the work students did this year."

Look What's Cooking in Home Ec.

"Child Care is a really interesting class, especially when you learn about parenting and the care of newborns," commented Sophomore Michelle Burns. Home Economics offered thirteen different classes this year. They included four levels of Food and Nutrition, three levels of Clothing, two levels of Child Care, Housing, Family Relations, Consumer Foundations, and Interpersonal Relations. These classes taught a variety of things important to life, such as parenting, caring for children, good nutrition, communicating and relating to others, manners, recipes, single and married life, food preservation, foreign foods, and menu and party planning. "I hope the students in Home Economics learn to be well rounded individuals who make a contribution to society, with emphasis on family structure," said Mrs. Phyllis Farley Home Economics department head.

Preparing for the Future

"We are no longer teaching prevocational skills. We are now teaching the concepts of four areas: Transportation. Communication, Construction, and Manufacturing," commented Mr. Frank Ellshoff, Industrial Technology department chairman. Although the Industrial Technology department did not teach prevocational skills anymore, the four areas covered a variety of skills. Transportation taught students about guidance and propulsion systems. To learn about communicating ideas and messages by the use of graphics, videos and electronics, students could have taken Communication. Construction taught students the concepts of building and its influence on society and man and his work. Manufacturing students studied the procedures and processes in modern manufacturing and the systems needed to produce products. Computers were also used by Industrial Technology students: the computers were mainly used for designing things. So it seems that Industrial Technology taught students the concepts of modern industry and the world of work

Senior Sean Walton works on a drawing, Industrial Technology taught four basic areas: Communication, Transportation, Construction, and Manufacturing.

"Fitness and Fun"

Gym offered a variety of activities tennis, softball, soccer, aerobics, and more in the hope that each student would find at least one that he/she enjoyed and played well.

Decatur reshaped its gym program this year somewhat to focus more on endurance, building the upper body, and abdominals.

Gym was required for two semesters equally divided between the freshman and sophomore years. Gym was a class that gave students a chance to unwind and renew their energy. Gym gives the brain a chance to relax and the body a chance to move. It keeps students from becoming bored from sitting motionless all day, although not everyone was this enthusiastic about gym. "I'm glad it's only required for two semesters!" said Sophomore Tracy Clevenger.

Along with two semesters of gym, a semester of health was required the sophomore year. Besides covering the basics, health covered youth health concerns that will be faced by many in their lives, such as sexually transmitted diseases and drug and tobacco abuse. "We try to keep our health classes up to date and interesting," stated Mr. Oberle.

Making Your Future Our Business

Vocational Activities Help Students Follow Dreams

At DC business classes were both educational and fun. Students were taught skills which could help in everyday life and open doors to the future.

Typing could be taken for two years. First year was done on typewriters. Students practiced typing reports, letters, and taking timed writings. Second-year class was spent doing similar things on computers.

There were other business classes available, too. Intensive Office Lab let students do the work in surroundings similar to a real office. In Data Processing, students learned to work with computers for competing in the business world.

Besides classes, DC offered business clubs so students could be with other students having similar interests. O.E.A. (Office Education Association) was offered to students currently taking any business class. Among the activities planned were fundraisers, outings, and helping with local charities. Mrs. Janet Lambert commented, "I enjoy being sponsor; it's a good group of people."

The largest club at DC, with 99 members, was D.E.C.A. (Distributive Educational Clubs of America). It was made up of only students taking marketing. All year the members of D.E.C.A. were competing in local, state, and even national championships. Members could also win scholarships to certain business colleges. Sponsor Mr. Larry Brich felt D.E.C.A. was very beneficial in learning and fun

Growing Stronger!

There are many publication classes offered at Decatur which included the newspaper, yearbook, and D.C. magazine. All have been improving greatly over the years.

The school newspaper, better known as the Outlook, sent many staff members to I.U. for a two-week camp which helped them in writing and page designing. Terry Obermeyer said, "The quality of our publication has improved greatly. One big reason for this is the new Macintosh computers. They made my job as business manager easier and the ads more professional looking."

The Hawkeye, which is the school yearbook, had many big problems to overcome, according to editor J'Lynn Mayes. "The staff was very young and inexperienced, but with lots of help from me and other returning staff members, the year went very well."

D.C. Magazine is a show produced by students from the high school. This year it was shown in both the North district and Decatur Township for the first time. Many of the north district students said that i was nice to finally get to see one of the shows. Stephanie Quinn, a member of D.C. magazine staff for two years, said "This year has really been successful for our group. There are now two channels airing our show so that the north district can also view it. The group is enthusiastic and the quality improved greatly."

In all, the publication staffs at Decatu are improving and are definitely helping Decatur Rise Above The Rest!

Venimus Vidimus Vicimus

Slave Auctions, Chariot Races and More

A foreign language was studied by many students at D.C. These languages also had clubs which students could join. One of these was the Latin Club.

The Latin Club consisted of students who were enrolled in Latin and wanted to explore a little more past school hours. "The purpose of the club is camaraderie and fun, giving students an opportunity to enjoy themselves safely," stated sponsor Nancy Wilson. The club enjoyed many fun activities such as holiday outings and fundraisers.

A traditional slave auction was held each year. New members entered the club as "slaves." A date was set for the auction and the "slaves" were presented to the returning members or "masters." Each slave was given a task such as singing a song or acting like a dog. From these performances, the "masters" judged and bid for the "slaves" of their choice. The slaves went for anywhere from 504 to $20. The money raised from this activity went to the treasury. Once the "slaves" had "masters," every command had to be obeyed.

Other activities included a Christmas party with ice skating at Union Station, chariot racing at the Indy Motor Speedway, a bowling party and a trip to Kings Island.

The officers of the Latin Club were President Matt Stanfield, Vice President Danny Reynolds, Secretary Alison Robbins, and Treasurer Preeti Saini. "Our officers have dedicated themselves to making this a great year," commented President Matt Stanfield. All and all, Latin Club was showing how they were "conquering" D.C. and "rising above the rest."

The "Activities" of Study Hall Snores, Bores, and More

"Dear Tracy, What's up? Anything exciting happening? Did you see that new boy in school? He is so cute!! What are you doing this weekend? Maybe we could get together and do something . . ."

Does this sound familiar? This was a typical example of a note written during study hall. There were many study halls all over Decatur, but students tended to think of room 150 when the word "study hall" was mentioned. Study halls were considered to be the places where students could catch up on their homework or read a book. "In study hall, you can get your homework done. Then you don't have to take as many books home," stated Freshman Ann Sherman. Other activities occurred in study hall also.

Sleeping was a popular activity with many students. Boredom, illness, or just plain lack of sleep the night before were the reasons given by some. "It's the best time to sleep, especially if you're having a hard day," says Sophomore Kristi Martin.

Writing notes was also another activity in study hall. Notes were written to that best friend who had not received one in weeks or to the person next to you.

Many prohibited activities took place in study hall. Talking was still a popular pastime even though it was not permitted. It didn't last long though because students were usually caught by the teacher who supervised the study hall. To get their message across, students usually resorted to notewriting.

Because of the new rule that did not allow eating in the classroom, eating became another prohibited activity this year. Many students brought in candy and munchies from home to pass the time away.

Even though study hall was considered "boring" by some, in the words of Junior Matt Stanfield, "If used wisely study hall can be very beneficial."

New Director Brings a New Attitude

The 1987 Marching Howks and Blue Hawk Guard underwent some changes this year. New band director David Marcotte and guard director Carin Wurger brought many ideas to Decatur.

After a period of adjustment, the band took on a new style and attitude. Junior Melanie Shanklin commented, "Our attitude has changed a lot since he (Mr. Marcotte) came to our school." This new attitude took wind when the band and guard competed in several contests. "The band and guard did very well," stated Mr. Marcotte on the band's receiving a second division rating at Bush Stadium and I.S.S.M.A. State Tournament.

Even though the size of the bond had decreased since last year, Senior Bill Thompson said, "The marching band has a lot a good points." The main goal for the 1987 88 band was a solid performance.

Besides contests, the Marching Hawk and Blue Hawk Guard also provide pregame and halftime entertainment at a of the home football games.

Bass clarinetists Marla Mayes and Danielle Tester, and baritone saxophonist Tony Glaze prepare contest music. The concert season was a very important part of the band's year.

Freshman percussionist Scott Wright practices his skills on the snare drum. Many hours were spent perfecting music.

David Marcotte directs the band in a contest piece. Many band students predicted a winning concert season.

Members of the clarinet section intensely study heir music before they ever start to play. Time and ledication were key words of this year's band.

Sing High, Sing Low

Choir this year seemed to be sparkling with energy from three very different groups. They were Concert Choir, Cadet Choir, and Varsity Chorale. Concert Choir was an all-girl choir. To participate in this group, students should have had at least one year of choir with Mrs. Denney. Cadet choir consisted of any freshman who sang with Mrs. Gaston at the junior high and wished to keep singing at the high school. Varsity Chorale was what

Mrs. Denney called a "four-part mixed ensemble," students that participated in Varsity Chorale needed to have participated in choir before and wished to continue through high school.

Students who participated in choir also put on performances. The performances were mainly for parents and friends. The choirs did Christmas and Spring performances and they competed in an organized meet. Choir students did about four programs during the year.

The students in choir were there to enjoy themselves and should have had a desire to learn about music. Mrs. Denney wanted this to be a break from academic studies and let the students be actively involved. At the end of the year, Mrs. Denney hoped the students would be able to read music.

Stressing Success

Academic Decathlon, Brain Game, National Honor Society, Student Council, Student Leadership, and S.A.D.D. formed the honor clubs of the 87-88 school year. Honor club members were some of Decatur's finest. They met tough requirements and pursued education for self-satisfaction. Besides tough requirements such as having a high grade point average, being chosen, attending regular meetings, and proving their leadership qualities, much material was independently studied by Academic Decathlon and Brain Game members. Honor clubs also provided many activities such as the Sadie Hawkins dance, sponsored by S.A.D.D. and Student Council. The dance was part of the celebration week held in January. Student Council also helped govern our school and guaranteed us our rights as students would be upheld. Student Leadership provided a data match program that paired students with their "perfect match." Student Leadership also helped bring out leadership qualities in members and students. The honor clubs displayed how DC students used their minds and skills to stress success.

Activities in School

Clubs allowed students to share interests and meet new friends. Clubs gave a student a sense of belonging and helped to develop self-confidence. Clubs also provided services for the school and students. The A.V. Club was responsible for audio equipment distributed to teachers and classrooms. Media Assistants kept our library in order and assisted the students in choosing, finding, and checking out books. Office Aides ran errands and handled other routine work such as attendance and passes. Many other clubs provided different types of activities. Drama Club and Thespian members displayed their acting abilities. The Speech Team competed in areas such as poetry, essay, composition, and impromptu. Clubs were a significant part of several DC students' lives.

Junior Paul Horton and Freshman Phylip Shirley play a game of chess as Sponsor Pete Molby watches. Chess was just one of the various games played in the club. Games Club members included Chris Benge, Phylip Shirley, Paul Horton, Mike Gaines, and Shannon Starr.

Junior Keith Hunter shares in a victory with Seniors Joe Cravens and Larry Leffler. The 1987 Baseball team won the County Championship for the first time since 1962.

Juniors Angie Fager and Marianne Stephens set the ball against the opposing team. Setting the ball was just one of the many techniques used in playing Volleyball.

Assistant Coach John Taylor watches a play attentively. Sideline coaching was important during a football game.

Senior Shannon Greve concentrates on returning the ball. Shannon played the number two singles position during the Women's Tennis season.

Junior Sean Ridge paces himself during a meet. Sean ran in the number two and three positions on the Men's Cross Country team.

Sports . . . More Than a Game

Her palms were sweating. It was the biggest meet of the season. She was afraid of losing the race. Trying to get over the nervousness, she began to focus on the finish line. The starting gun sounded suddenly. She cleared the first hurdle and then the second. She was neck and neck with an opponent all the way until the last hurdle. With a burst of energy, she raced over the finish line.

Many students involved in athletics were found in this scene. Sports played an important role in students' lives. Various sports took place at DC. Several practices occurred before and after school. Some practices even extended into the weekend. Team practices were not the only way spirit was displayed. Fans showed spirit at games to prove that DC was always able to . . .

This year was Decatur soccer team's second year and a much improved one. It was a year for developing skills and learning to play together as a team. The soccer team won five out of sixteen game, which is an improvement over last year's record.

"We've really come together this year!" said Coach Larry Adams. "We have many improved players and twelve lettermen returning for next year." He continued, "The team has really put an enormous amount of effort into learning the game. Many of the players have been playing with the Carson Park's traveling team during the fall season. I believe this is going to help their performance next spring."

Brad Krick and Matt Teike served as captains for the team; Brad Krick also received the Most Valuable Player Award. Jeff Dove won the citizenship award, and Terry Obermeyer and Todd Casselman were the most improved this year, coming through with their growing aggressiveness. The soccer team's two goals for next year are to have a winning record and to beat Perry Meridian and Center Grove.

America's Game Enjoys Success in '87

This year, the 1987 Varsity Baseball team ended its season with a respectable record of 14 wins and 17 losses. With the Hawks roster displaying five or six sophomores starting every game, Coach Phil Webster thought that he got a lot accomplished out of such a young team. He also felt that with all of his sophomores returning as juniors, they should have a very good win-loss situation for the '88 season.

Junior Johnny Lamar was voted the Most Valuable Player for the '87 season, with Joe Cravens capturing Citizenship. With these two players in mind, Coach Webster stated, "I had a real fun year working with the guys."

In Coach Webster's opinion, the most important game the Hawks played was the game against Lawrence Central. This game was so important because it was the County Championship. The Hawks won the Championship for the first time since 1962. This year's Hawks were also the Sectional runner-ups, having beaten Mooresville in Sectional competition.

The reserve team also had a successful season with its record of 9 wins and 4 losses. "This is a proud, competitive group of individuals. They played well and behaved well at all times. They accomplished the first winning record for a reserve squad in many years," stated Coach Dan Clark. Sophomore Kevin Settles was awarded Most Valuable Player for the reserve team, with Steve Wheeler stealing Citizenship. With both the Varsity and Reserve teams' accomplishments, Webster and Clark were pleased with the season.

Hawks Hopeful for Next Year's Sectionals

This year's '87 Varsity Softball team finished its season with a respectable record of 14 wins, 5 losses, and 1 tie. In the five games that they lost, they never lost by more than four runs. Coach Kuper thought that the team has progressed in many ways and expects an excellent season in the spring of '88.

The Lady Hawks beat Ben Davis in the early part of the season with a score of 9-7. When sectionals came around, the Hawks lacked self confidence and fell to Ben Davis. "The loss of sectionals was the most disappointing thing that happened to us all season," stated Coach Ann Kuper. Coach Kuper also said, "With 7 letter winners returning to the '88 team we look for promising season."

Returning lettermen to the '87 tear were as follows: Amy Asher, Debbie Tutsie Dawn Goodbar, Kristie Krodel, and Daw Krodel. Debbie Tutsie was also the Mo: Valuable Player.

Lady Hawks Keep on Tracking

"This season was our best yet," comnented Coach Dorothy Dillon. The girls' track eam ended their season with an incredible inning record of 12 wins and only 2 losses. he team consisted of returning letterwomen nostly, many of whom had improved imnensely.

The team proved to be strong in all vents, taking first place at the Southport elays and CSAC conference. In Sectionals, ne tracksters qualified a full team in every vent, but placed only sixth in overall cometition.

Angie Guerra made it to Regionals in the 3200. She also set the school record for this event. Amy Kuroiwa in the 1600, Susan Wenzlick in the shot put, and Michelle Parrinello in the long jump also made it to Regionals.

The Most Valuable Player award went to Susan Wenzlick and Citizenship went to Letta Neely. Coach Dillon said, "Losing Susan is a big loss; there's no one else doing shot and discus. That will be our only weak spot since everyone else will be a strong team, but hopefully we will be able to defend our championships.'

Another Winning Season

Although the men's track team didn't maintain their undefeated record, they still had an outstanding season with only one loss. This didn't bother new head coach, Mr. Malandro, whose philosophy was to score points in the big meets and the post season. The team succeeded in doing this. Scott Purdue, Leroy Williams, Randy Carr, and Terry Shirrell made it to Regionals after a fourth-place team finish. Leroy Williams and Randy Carr also advanced to the state meet. Several new school records were also set: Leroy Williams, Terry Shirrell, and Randy Carr set records in the 300 low hurdles, the 200 and discus, respectively. Leroy Williams also tied the school's high hurdles record. The team's Most Valuable Player Award went to Terry Shirrell. The Citizenship Award went to Leroy Williams. Coach Malandro commented, "The team improved a lot from the last season. Considering the talent we had, I was pleased with most things. The coaches worked well together, but it was difficult to follow the legendary coaching of Ted Ficher. Next year's team should have a lot of depth, but we'll need more in sprints, high jump, long jump, and relays."

One Stroke Away

This year's 1987 girls golf team had an excellent season. Out of 15 meets they won 13 and gave up only two defeats. "This year we had our best season ever; we were only one stroke away from going to the state finals," stated coach Don Huffman.

Junior Janet Miller was selected the Most Valuable Golfer for the '87 season. One of her qualifications for receiving this award was advancing to regionals after winning against all of the County Club schools. "The one thing that satisfied me the most about this year's team was when Janet Miller advanced into regional play," stated Coach Huffman. The Citizenship award was proudly accepted by Senior Kara Ogle.

A Hawk Takes Sectionals

The spring of '87 hosted an up and down season for the boys golf team. The golfers coached by Mr. Don Huffman ended their season with five wins and eight losses and one tie. The most important meet the Hawks competed in was sectionals. They missed team qualifications into Regionals by six strokes, with Senior Jeff Huffman advancing to regional competition with a "76". Jeff Huffman was fourth golfer in the history of Decatur Central to advance to regionals. Huffman also dominated the golf

Building a Promising Future

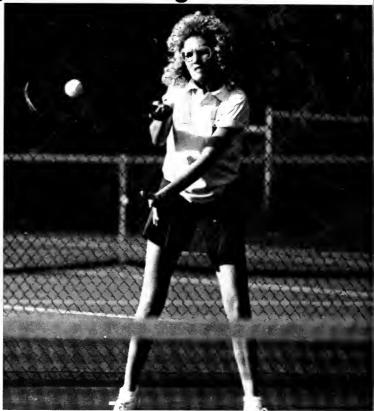

The 86-87 tennis team had a respectable year. They ended the season with six wins and ten losses. The Citizenship award went to Michelle Couch and Most Valuable Player went to Beth Patterson. The team was made up of relatively young players who matured and maximized their ability during the season.

Looking forward to next season, Mr. Adrianson predicted a better one because of the improved play of the upper-classmen veterans and the addition of incoming freshmen.

The Boys Tennis Team finished its season with five wins and eleven losses. Senior Brian Tipmore was named Most Valuable Player and made the CSAC team. Senior David Nauert earned the Citizenship Award.

"With five returning lettermen and the good freshmen we've had this year, we're looking for an improved season next year," stated Coach Ray Adrianson. "We had our ups and downs, but on the whole we played as a team. I am looking forward to my senior year playing for Coach Adrianson," commented junior Ronnie Nance. The tennis team is also looking forward to expanded facilities; ten new tennis courts to be built beside the football field will replace the four old

Junior quarterback Jeff Scott runs the ball up field in an attempt to gain extra yardage against Pike's Red Devils. Earlier in the year Pike defeated Decatur 15-6. Then the Hawks went on to sectionals and revenged themselves against Pike with a 14-7 win. The Varsity Football Team players worked hard and improved at the end of the season. Senior Chris Ikemire, who earned the Citizenship Award, stated, "I've learned to give and take and make sacrifices. I've also learned the meaning of pride."

Next season looks promising if they pull together and the hard work continues.

The 1987 Junior Varsity Football Team ended its season with no wins and seven losses. The J.V. team was small in numbers but made do with what they had. Although the scores look disappointing, the real success was the valuable experience gained.

The 1987 Varsity Football Team finished a somewhat disappointing season with 4 wins and 7 losses. The season started out strong with a major victory over Mooresville (21-0) and a strong defensive game against Brownsburg, finishing 9 to 6. Then after being defeated by Pike 15 to 6, players lost confidence and playing became inconsistent. But by sectional time they had pulled together and were psyched up again to overtake Plainfield 27-0, and take revenge against Pike 14-7.

Team captain, Senior Brian Harrington, was named Most Valuable Player and Most Valuable Back. He was also recognized with All-Conference and All-County selection. Also, team captain Randy Carr was named All-Conference. Joe Cravens was named Most Valuable Lineman.

This year's 1987 Varsity Volleyball team ended its season with a disappointing record of 4 wins and 16 losses. Junior Dawn Goodbar proudly received the Most Valuable Player Award, having been nominated as a second team All-County player. Senior Kelly McSpadden was awarded the Citizenship Award.

The team captains for the '87 season were the three seniors on the squad — Amy Asher, Kelly McSpadden, and Jennifer Sipes. As the season progressed, Amy Asher was elected Marion County All-Conference Player.

Hawk Harriers Pursue Elusive Dream

The Women's Cross Country team had an excellent season ending with a record of 7-1. Their only loss was to state finalist Mooresville, whom they defeated in the Golden Spike on a tie-breaker to take second place.

The Golden-Spike was one of the three goal meets the Lady Hawks were aiming to do well in. They also did well in other goal meets, placing third in C.S.A.C. and beating Ben Davis out of a well-deserved fourth place in Sectionals by a tie-breaker. This was the first year the girls made it to the Regionals. The team placed eighth, but this wasn't really disappointing.

Senior Michelle Parrinello commented, "Knowing that the Decatur Central Girls" Cross Country team made it to the Regionals for the first time during my senior year is a wonderful memory to graduate with."

Junior Amy Kuroiwa earned All-Conference, All-County, All-Sectionals honors and won Most Valuable Runner. Junior Letta Neely also earned All-Conference honors and she made it to the all-time list of fastest runners. "It's not that I made it, but that I scored for our meet in C.S.A.C. and I was more jubilant for the team," said Letta. Letta was the recipient of the Citizenship Award this year. Sophomore Kim Montgomery was the Most Improved Runner.

The Men's Varsity Cross Country team finished its season with a winning record of 7-2. The team won Decatur's Golden Spike Invitational and the Pike Hokum-Karum. Their third-place finish in Sectionals made them one of five teams to advance to Regionals. There the team finished in a disappointing tenth place. Senior Scott Purdue was the only harrier to advance to the Semi-State where he placed 21st. Purdue was named All-Conference, All-Sectional and Most Valuable Runner. Senior Leroy Williams also earned All-Conference honors. The Citizenship Award went to Senior David Nelson. Sophomore Brian Ringham was the Most Improved Runner.

"We ran a pretty good season," said Coach Fisher, "There were a lot more injuries than usual, and if it wasn't for our depth, we would have been in trouble."

Coach Fisher also voiced his doubts about next year's team. "Right now, it's looking pretty scary. This year nine seniors are graduating, and we didn't have a full reserve or freshman team. There'll only be two returning lettermen, both of whom were injured and couldn't finish the season. We'll just have enough for Varsity, but they will need a lot of work to attain Varsity caliber. I'm really counting on the freshmen."

The members of the Men's Cross Country team circle up for stretching and relax before their race. Stretching helps to keep muscles loosened up, and prevents them from pulling, which is a major concern during the season.

Cheerleaders: Jumping Above the Rest

"Cheerleading overall has had its good and bad times this year. I think we have had a great season, and winning both the State and County fair competition was really exciting," stated Sophomore Francie Taylor.

"It has really been a fun year and I enjoyed working with the other girls," added Freshman Amber Teltoe.

"We've had some bad and we had a lot of good times, but through it all I feel the squad has grown closer," said Sophomore Jody Brown.

"I've really enjoyed cheerleading, but I feel that the rules were too strict," stated Junior Tracie Gammon.

"This has been the best year as a cheerleading squad because we all worked well together and got along great!" said Senior Vicki Crawley.

Dedication Pays Off for Gymnasts

Decatur's Gymnastic team had a lot of success this season. They had good depth in each event which, for dual meets, was usually six to eight gymnasts per event. Their event scores were very consistent and well-balanced. While trying for her best, every girl showed major improvement from one meet to the next.

The team's success is due to hard work and dedication. This team doesn't just work hard during their competitive season; the girls put the time in during the off season to run, lift weights, work out, and to go to summer camps. Coach Julie Clark was very pleased with the development of the team and the improvement shown this year. "If their dedication and desire weren't strong enough to keep them motivated in the off season, we wouldn't experience success in our competitive season."

Next year, the team will have a strong nucleus of six gymnasts who will be seniors. They should be very strong and very successful.

Senior Delynn Harper shows her grace and poise as she does her routine on the beam.

Wrestling History Repeats Itself

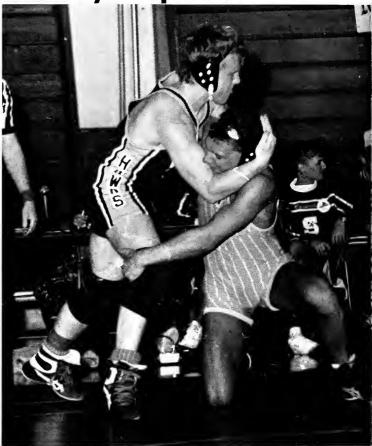

This year's 1987/88 Varsity Wrestling team had its best season ever with a record of 13 wins and 2 losses. Out of 13 Varsity wrestlers, 10 advanced to regional competition. They were as follows: Sophomore Doug Rigney, 2nd place; Freshman Jaime Murray, 1st place; Senior Terry Obermeyer, 3rd place; Senior Ronnie Payton, 2nd place; Senior Jerry Richards, 1st place; Senior Donnie Rigney, 2nd place; Senior Frian Davis, 1st place; Senior Brian Harrington, 2nd place; Senior Robert Averitte, 3rd place; and Sophomore Adam Brawner, 2nd place;

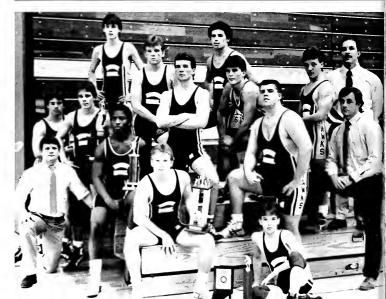

Obermeyer, Richards, Davis, and Averitte all advanced to state competition. Davis and Obermeyer were the only two wrestlers that advanced to the final rounds. Davis won 3rd place honors and Obermeyer took 2nd.

The most valuable wrestler for the 87-88 season was Terry Obermeyer with Brian Harrington winning citizenship. The most important meet the grapplers faced this year was the dual meet against Beech Grove. "I feel that my wrestlers improved a great deal," stated Coach David Walpole.

Aqua Hawks Float to the Top

Although their record of 6-10 doesn't show it, every girl improved over her best times from the previous year. The team was very short on numbers, especially since two key swimmers moved, but it will have a strong nucleus for next season.

This year the girls team received new equipment: lane markers, diving score cards, and swim suits. The Most Valuable Swimmer Award

The Most Valuable Swimmer Award went to Junior Heather Berwick. Sophomore Marya Miller received the Citizenship Award. "I was really surprised," Marya said. "There were a lot of people who deserved it."

Coach T. J. Whitfield thinks next year looks very favorable. "I look for more girls out for the team; there will be a strong senior class and a large group of freshmen. I hope to have the second winning season in the school history and an individual Sectional, Conference and County Champ."

The 1987-88 Men's Swimming team finished the season with 6 wins and 9 losses. This has been the best season since 1983. The season showed a slow steady improvement, although the record doesn't show it because of the tough competition.

This was a year of breaking records. Over 50% of the team broke personal best records. Tom Avery broke the school record for the 50 yard freestyle, held by Bruce Young since 1974 at 23.0 seconds. Avery beat that with a 22.91 at sectional preliminaries. "This year has been a good one for the swimming team," Coach Molby adds. "With some work on filling in the weak spots, next year can be even better!"

Shooting for the Best!

This year both the Varsity and the Junior Varsity Women's Basketball teams worked hard and had many personal successes. The varsity team finished its season with 10 wins and 9 losses. The overall season was up and down. The Junior Varsity team finished its season with 1 win and 17 losses, with a season of steady improvement from game to game. What the scores don't show is the support that was given to team members by the team, and the family bond and love that has formed among teammates. "I feel that at the end of the season we had come together as a family, which helped us to work harder and play better as a team," stated Kris Thomas. Varsity Coach Pentzer added, "Their ability to pull themselves back up and support each other is one of their strongest points." Junior varsity coach Kuper stated, "I feel that if this group of athletes keeps working, they will be very competitive as juniors and seniors."

Basketball Team Reaches Their Goals

On January 22 Decatur's Varsity Basketball team played Perry Meridian and wan with a score of 59-55. Mark Schabel lead the team with 16 points, followed closely by Bobby Anglea with 14 points, and Morris Appleton with 11 points. This type of game was typical during their season.

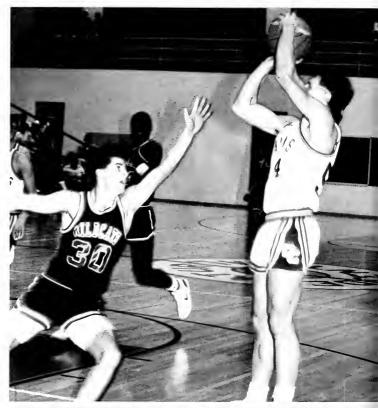

The team had five returning lettermen this year, including John LaMar, Morris Appleton, and captains David Nauert, Bobby Anglea, and Mark Schabel. The team also had a new varsity coach, business teacher Tim Thompson.

Coach Thompson commented on the team, "We've worked hard and had a good season so far. We have as good a chance as any to win the Sectionals. If we concentrate and work hard, we could win it."

Senior Leroy Williams asks for an opinion on a drawing. Art was one of many electives offered at Decatur.

During Mechanical Drawing, Senior Matt Gault works on a layout. There were two Mechanical Drawing classes offered at Decatur.

During passing period, Senior Ron Watts and Rob Low stand around and talk. Passing period was five minutes long, just enough time to get to class.

After lunch Seniors Morris Appleton, Kevin Richardson, and Keith Richardson stand around and talk. Talking in the halls is a favorite among many D.C.H.S. students.

During lunch Freshman Tassawa Green talks on the phone. There are six public phones for students to use.

A table full of Juniors sit and talk during lunch. In the cafeteria students can choose where they wish to sit.

Oliver's

The Place to Be!

Many Decatur Central students spent most of their free time at a new dance place called Oliver's.

Oliver's was an under-21 club located in the Speedway Shopping Center. Oliver's consisted of a game room which had pool tables, electronic games, and even a basketball shooting game. It also had an eating area which served pizza, cokes, and nonalcoholic drinks. And of course, the dance floor — where live bands played along with a D.J.

When Decatur students were asked what they thought of Oliver's, many said it was a fun place to hang out and meet new people from all over.

Along with Oliver's Decatur Central rise above the rest.

WATERMELON BUST

Terry Obermeyer smashes a slice of watermelon on Robbie Bonds during the "Watermelon Eating Contest." This was the lost of the games due to a lack of watermelon allegedly used in combat.

David Nauert and Steve Rackley participate in the "Seed Spitting Contest." The contest was won by David and Pam Hardy (not pictured).

CHANGES IN '88'

This was a year of great change for Decatur Central students. While there had been many problems, no problem proved insurmountable. Decatur students had risen above each challenge as it was presented to them. Businesses in and around the Decatur area demonstrated their approval of Decatur students by plocing their advertisements in the HAWKEYE. Be it in athletic competition or a scene in the play, Decatur students showed themselves to be good, supportive audiences this year.

When asked about his senior year, Paul Cox,

When asked about his senior year, Paul Cox, said that "All in all this year has been pretty fun. Decatur has tried some new and different things — like the Stage 1 concert for Student Council. It seems to me that Decatur students have been more supportive." So Decatur continued to

The More Things Change . . . The More They Stay The Same

The year 1987-1988 has seen many changes. New people and policies have come. Some of the old ones have left.

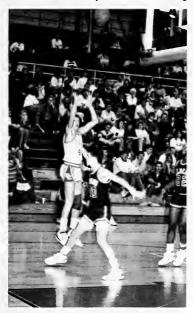

For freshmen, it was the change to a new building and older people. "High school is different from junior high because there is interaction with older kids. Junior high kids are much closer in age," stated Freshman Corrie Phelps.

New policies also came into effect. Students were able to wear shorts. But many of the old policies left. Candy fundraisers were discontinued and tardies to first period caused a student to have a holding room during that time. Seniors also had some complaints with the rules. "I think the administration needs to rethink their decision about 'senior privileges'," commented Senior Dawna Clark.

Changes came in the teaching staff. Mr. Dave (Doc) Rather, a familiar face to many students, left his social studies classes to pursue his position at Warren Central. Changes also came as students participated more in contributing to the improvement of the school. These suggestions came to the Student Council, which also planned numerous activities.

Several students were looking forward to the next school year. "I am looking forward to spring break of my senior year and all the senior activities," commented junior Kyle Ahnafield. There were many changes for the school year. But students took these changes and showed how they were always rising above the rest.

At the end of a long hard week at school, many students sighed this expression of relief. This sign hung on the locker of Junior Aaron Coates.

Senior David Nauert executes his shooting ability during a game. David was a forward on the Varsity Basketball team.
